

Brothers and Sisters in

Through the years, no bond is typically longer, stronger, or more comforting than that between brothers and sisters - especially for those who are separated from other family members through foster care or adoption

There are many brothers and sisters in our community who need a foster family in which they can stay together. Unfortunately, there are too few families ready to welcome three or more siblings into their homes.

What does it take to be a foster parent to siblings?

We are looking for individuals, couples and families who:

- ❖ Love and enjoy children
- ❖ Are open to learning what is different about being a sibling in foster care
- ❖ Understand that parenting two or three children requires more planning and organizing
- ❖ Can nurture what is special and unique about each individual child
- ❖ Will seek the support of others when needed
- ❖ Can provide structure and guidance with patience and flexibility
